

AUTHENTIC MOUNTAIN SPIRIT RIP'N WUD SKIS

Rip'nWud skis are handmade wood core skis, designed to offer a new way of skiing pleasure: simple and perfect. The pursuit of perfection and purity has always guided the designs of Rip'nWud's exceptional handmade skis. With wood core's made of 100% white ash wood, it sets apart from the competition allowing easy handling with high performance and stability at the same time. Produced in small series and quantity, each handmade piece is elaborated with great care: Rip'nWud's artisans put all their attention and passion into each pair of skis.

Kevan Beane, founder, director & designer of Rip'nWud Skis grew up in the Canadian Rocky Mountains with "Skis in Hands" and dedicated his life to skiing and the mountains. Former ski champion and professional skier, instructor, alpine ski team trainer & alpine guide, kevan has been riding in the best spots in the world and created the prestige Rip'nWud ski brand in 1997 in Chamonix France, eager to share his passion.
